A different day from last Sunday, we had plenty of wind and sunshine and plenty of action on the course. The strong North Easterly made for a tricky bit in the middle of the track both up and down, making for plenty of passing lanes depending on where you were and how lucky the gods looked down upon you. I had the Wind Warrior sails on and was pleased with the way they handled in the strong wind, Don had his JF sails and Lindsay sailed with DT sails and to be fair on Lindsay he left early and suffered the consequence. Colin who got 2nd on line and 1st on handicap was sailing with DT sails which are quite old and I am sure he would like to replace them with something new, well done Colin. It is painfully apparent that the Electron Association need to make a decision on the future of the sail making quite soon. Have a great week cheers Bunny
